Kenzie is a managing associate with considerable real estate, corporate and tax experience in the multifamily industry, particularly in the areas of affordable housing and historic preservation. She primarily represents investors in structuring and closing new construction and rehabilitation deals involving state and federal low-income housing tax credits, historic rehabilitation tax credits, new markets tax credits and multiple layers of financing, including federal, state, and local loan and grant programs.

Kenzie joined the firm in 2021 after participating in the 2019 Summer Associate Program. She graduated magna cum laude from Indiana University Maurer School of Law, and during her time in law school, she served as a Managing Editor on the Indiana Law Journal and as a Dean's Writing Fellow. Prior to law school, Kenzie earned a Bachelor of Science in Psychology from Purdue University, where she graduated with Highest Distinction.
