Lisa's practice focuses on reviewing title, survey, zoning, and other due diligence items on behalf of private equity firms in large portfolio acquisitions. Prior to joining the firm, Lisa represented groups of investors in all aspects of commercial property transactions: acquisitions and sales, due diligence, development, leasing, property management, as well as new business entity formation. These projects consisted of strip malls and other retail space, office space, industrial/warehouse space, and restaurants. She has also advised small businesses from multiple industries in a variety of other legal matters, including contracts, employment, bankruptcy, collections, mechanic's liens, and tax law. Lisa comes from a family of entrepreneurs and small business owners, so she offers a unique and diverse perspective, and is dedicated to assisting businesses, large or small, with all of their legal needs.
