Bennett specializes in patent law and assists clients with the preparation and prosecution of domestic and foreign patent applications. His practice encompasses a wide range of technologies including mechanical, chemical, and materials. Bennett was a Summer Associate at the firm in the Summer of 2021.

Prior to joining the firm, he earned a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from the University of Cincinnati. As part of his studies, Bennett worked as a process engineer in the optimization of steelmaking for a well-known global manufacturer. After earning his bachelor's, Bennett studied at the University of Cincinnati College of Law, where he earned his J.D. and graduated magna cum laude. While in law school, Bennett worked as a legal fellow with the Ohio Innocence Project. There, he worked on the case of Alan Butts, who was exonerated after serving over 19 years in prison for a crime he did not commit.

Bennett continues to support the Ohio Innocence Project, serving on their Young Professionals Board. Bennett has also served as a data consultant for NBA agents.
