Jen represents employers in all manner of labor and employment matters, including federal and state litigation, appeals, arbitrations, unfair labor practice charges, injunction hearings, EEOC charges, and unemployment hearings. Jen is also a trial attorney who regularly obtains defense verdicts, dismissals, and other positive outcomes for employers. Jen has successfully defended against claims brought under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Family and Medical Leave Act, the National Labor Relations Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Kentucky Civil Rights Act, Kentucky wage and hour law, and other state and federal labor and employment laws. Jen also helps employers avoid litigation by providing training and counseling on a variety of topics, including terminations, investigations, employment policies, and other important workplace issues.

Jen graduated cum laude from Washington University School of Law in St Louis, where she was Editor-in-Chief of the Washington University Journal of Law and Policy and Vice President of the Women's Law Caucus. Before joining the firm, she worked as an Assistant Public Defender in Miami-Dade County where she represented indigent juveniles and adults through all stages of litigation including trial. Jen is also a published poet with a master's degree in poetry writing from Columbia University.
