Neal focuses his practice on employment litigation and employer counseling for companies across a variety of industries.

Neal has represented employers in single plaintiff and class and collective action litigation claims under FLSA, Title VII, the ADA, the FMLA, the ADEA, the WARN Act and various other federal and state employment laws. He also specializes in wage and hour litigation and is head of the firm's wage and hour group.

Neal proactively works with clients to help solve a variety of employment challenges, including:

- Handbooks, employment contracts, job descriptions, non-compete agreements and other onboarding needs
- Wage and hour compliance and practices
- Managing disability and leave questions
- Corporate training programs
- Discipline and discharge issues
- Severance agreements and packages
- Internal investigations
- Employment litigation
- Class and Collective Wage and Hour litigation

Neal is a regular speaker and trainer on employment and human resources topics, including managing wage and hour issues, discrimination and harassment issues, the Family Medical Leave Act and other best employment practices. Neal is a guest lecturer at Miami University and the University of Cincinnati, Blue Ash. Neal is also a member of the firm's Recruiting Committee.

When not practicing law, Neal loves spending time with his wife and two daughters, having driveway drinks with his neighbors and playing “old man” hockey. Neal also enjoys serving on the Board of Trustees for IKRON Corporation, a non-profit mental healthcare provider.
