Texas FBT Gibbons Team Serves as Underwriter's Counsel on $1.15 Billion City of Austin Airport Bonds Offering

An FBT Gibbons team, including Martina Hinojosa, Cheryl Rosenberg, Rahat Huq, and Robin Smith, represented Jefferies and an underwriting syndicate consisting of J.P. Morgan, HilltopSecurities Inc., Loop Capital Markets, and Stifel as underwriter's counsel in connection with the City of Austin's $300.09 million Airport System Revenue and Refunding Bonds, Series 2026A (non-AMT), and $850.13 million Airport System Revenue and Refunding Bonds, Series 2026B (AMT).

The funds will support near-term projects within the Airport Expansion and Development Program, a multibillion-dollar initiative designed to modernize facilities, increase capacity, and enhance the passenger experience at Austin-Bergstrom International Airport. Projects include new concourses, expanded passenger facilities, and upgraded infrastructure as the airport works to accommodate rapid growth in passenger volume.

FBT Gibbons' Public Finance team advises borrowing entities, financial institutions, and state and local governmental bodies on a wide range of infrastructure finance and economic development matters across the country. The team's experience spans municipal finance, economic development and redevelopment projects, real estate finance, securitizations, and public-private partnerships. In addition to transactional work, the group counsels clients on pre- and post-issuance compliance matters involving federal tax and securities laws and serves as disclosure counsel for major issuers, advising on ongoing disclosure obligations and regulatory compliance under applicable securities rules, including Rule 15c2-12.
