Frost Brown Todd Welcomes Kandi Kilkelly Hidde to the Firm's Business Litigation Practice in Indy

Frost Brown Todd is pleased to announce the addition of member attorney Kandi Hidde to its Business Litigation practice group in Indianapolis. Hidde is an experienced litigator, representing corporate and individual clients across a range of industries, including healthcare, insurance, emerging business and intellectual property.

"Kandi has excellent standing in the Indianapolis legal and business community. We are thrilled that she has decided to join our firm as we continue to grow our team with attorneys who are committed to both legal excellence and our community," says Heather Wilson, Frost Brown Todd's Indianapolis member-in-charge.

For the past 20 years, Hidde has practiced law in Indiana with a focus on thoroughly understanding her clients' businesses in order to provide effective and efficient solutions to resolve their disputes. She has represented numerous clients at all stages of complex business disputes and lawsuits, from pre-suit activities through trial, and in alternative dispute resolution matters. Her practice covers multiple areas of law, including health care, intellectual property, class actions, shareholder disputes, professional liability defense, bad faith litigation, and environmental and other insurance coverage matters.

Hidde has been recognized in multiple editions of Indiana Super Lawyers®, The Best Lawyers in America®. She received her law degree from the University of Dayton School of Law in 1993 and her bachelor's degree from St. Norbert College in 1990. She is licensed to practice law in Indiana and Florida.

Indianapolis is home to more than 80 Frost Brown Todd legal professionals and led by Heather Wilson. In addition to providing legal counsel in Business Litigation, the team also serves clients in the areas of Appellate, Construction, Corporate Law, Environmental Law, Intellectual Property, Labor and Employment, Lending and Commercial Services, Personal and Succession Planning, and Product Liability Litigation.
