Frost Brown Todd Attorney Milton Sutton Achieves Certification as an Information Privacy Professional

Frost Brown Todd (FBT) Columbus attorney Milton Sutton has earned the Certified Information Privacy Professional/United States (CIPP/US) credential – the global standard in privacy certification – through the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP). He joins the ranks of some 10,000 professionals worldwide who currently hold one or more IAPP certifications.

Sutton is a member of the firm's public sector legal team. His practice focuses on complex information technology matters, including computer systems, telecommunications, data, software development, licensing, cloud computing, cybersecurity and privacy. He serves the private and public sectors in all areas of technology and procurement, providing contract preparation, review and negotiations. Sutton has extensive experience drafting statutes and municipal ordinances, including rights-of-way and wireless telecommunications facilities. He assists entities in cyber security preparation as well as responding to large data breach incidents, and speaks regularly on general cyber security issues. His practice also includes intellectual property matters with a focus on trademark prosecution and enforcement.

About the IAPP and the CIPP

Privacy professionals are the arbiters of trust in today's data-driven global economy. They help organizations manage rapidly evolving privacy threats and mitigate the potential loss and misuse of information assets. The IAPP is the first organization to publicly establish standards in professional education and testing for privacy and data protection. The IAPP privacy certification is internationally recognized as a reputable, independent program that professionals seek and employers demand. The CIPP is the global standard in privacy certification. Developed and launched by the IAPP with leading subject matter experts, the CIPP is the world's first broad-based global privacy and data protection credentialing program. The CIPP/US demonstrates a strong foundation in U.S. private-sector privacy laws and regulations and an understanding of the legal requirements for the responsible transfer of sensitive personal data to/from the U.S., the EU and other jurisdictions.
