

Oct 12, 2010

Categories:
Experience

Individual and putative class action

We represent a manufacturer of isocyanate containing products used in various applications in underground coal mines. The product is used to glue unstable top or rib in the mines and for other purposes primarily having to do with ventilation control. It is alleged that the isocyanate in the product can cause occupational asthma thru inhalation or dermal contact. We are contesting these cases as to causation, exposure, warnings, intervening cause issues.

© 2026 FBT Gibbons LLP. May be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions.