

Jun 01, 2002

Categories:
Experience

Lexington Fayette Urban County Government Sexual Discrimination Case

Former female police officer alleged discrimination when she was not reinstated to her position. The county had reinstated five men—but denied reinstatement to one man, and to the female plaintiff. FBT mediated the matter, and offered the plaintiff reinstatement and $60,000, which she declined. FBT then moved for summary judgment.

© 2026 FBT Gibbons LLP. May be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions.