

Oct 12, 2010

Categories:
Experience

McDermott v. Sauter

Collision between an automobile and a motorcycle, in which the motorcycle operator, defendant, was traveling on a residential street and the plaintiff was backing her automobile out of a driveway where she had pulled into in order to turn around. The case was defended solely on the issue of liability. Plaintiff had allegedly serious injuries.

© 2026 FBT Gibbons LLP. May be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions.