It’s time to consider what will be the new “normal” when employees return to work and as companies return to “business as usual.” Without question, the COVID-19 crisis has changed the American workplace. What measures are your company preparing to put in place to protect your employees, customers and your bottom line when business reopens? What is your plan for gradually returning to employees to the workplace? What health and safety precautions will be taken?

Have you thought about some of the new and difficult challenges that will come with this new workplace? Watch this webinar to address these questions and more in its first “After COVID” Webinar Series.

Our coronavirus-related guidance was current at the time of publication, but the situation remains fluid and the long-term ramifications are still unknown. Nevertheless, we are committed to providing regular updates on the emerging legal issues, as well as any changes at the policy level that stand to impact ground-level operations for your business.*

To provide guidance and support to clients as this global public-health crisis unfolds, Frost Brown Todd has created a Coronavirus Response Team. Our attorneys are on hand to answer your questions and provide guidance on how to proactively prepare for and manage any coronavirus-related threats to your business operations and workforce.
