Data Privacy Detective Podcast – Episode 97: Data Privacy Happenings in August 2022

Sep 08, 2022

Categories:

Blogs
Podcast
Technology Blog

Authors:

Joseph J. Dehner

Get an update on lawsuits launched and settled in August 2022. Consider FBI warnings about DeFi platform and CISA declarations about protecting critical infrastructure. Learn of a draft bill circulating in California about an age-appropriate code for websites. A data broker is sued by the Federal Trade Commission for selling geolocation data that can be used to track who's visiting a women's reproductive health center, an addiction treatment facility, and everywhere else a smartphone travels.

Tune in for this September 2022 update of what's been happening in data privacy and cybersecurity.

If you have ideas for more interviews or stories, please email info@thedataprivacydetective.com.

Privacy & Data Security Weekly Update

Need more Data Privacy updates?

Three things that happened recently. Three things you want to know. Three things moving forward. Delivered to your inbox weekly.

Newsletter Sign Up

© 2026 FBT Gibbons LLP. May be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions.

2026 FBT Gibbons LLP. All rights reserved. ADVERTISING MATERIAL.