

Mar 23, 2020

Categories:

Coronavirus Response

Team

Publications

Authors:

Theodore E. Bacon

Jonathan M. Werner

Webinar Recap: Coronavirus and California Employers – What You Need to Know Now

On Friday, March 20, 2020, Jonathan Werner and Theodore E. Bacon presented "Coronavirus and California Employers: What You Need to Know Now."

The impact of the Coronavirus pandemic has left California employers with seemingly more questions than answers. What do I do if an employee presents with symptoms? Can I make them stay home? What about furloughs and/or layoffs? Do the federal and California WARN Acts apply?

This webinar provides California employers with the information they need now to appropriately respond to this unprecedented situation.

DISCLAIMER: The information contained herein is intended for informational purposes only and should not be construed as professional counsel or legal advice. Seek legal counsel for advice with respect to any legal matter. The information in this document may not reflect the most current developments as the subject matter is extremely fluid and may change daily. The content and interpretation of the issues addressed herein are subject to change.

© 2026 FBT Gibbons LLP. May be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions.