Partner Gordon Young Joins Frost Brown Todd San Francisco Office

Gordon Young has joined Frost Brown Todd's San Francisco office as a partner in its Business & Commercial Litigation practice. Young joins from Barr & Young Attorneys, a Bay Area litigation boutique he founded in 2013. Prior to Barr & Young, Young was a partner in the international law firm Keesal, Young & Logan, where he spent more than two decades serving in leadership roles.

Young is a seasoned trial lawyer with three decades of experience trying and arbitrating cases – including more than 80 to conclusion — for Fortune 500 companies, banks, broker-dealers, trustees, individuals, and investment advisors. He has successfully handled hundreds of securities, trusts and estates, probate, employment, unfair competition, trade secret, and personal injury matters in both court and arbitration.

"We're excited to welcome Gordon to our San Francisco office as we continue to build up our California offices and grow our capabilities since the merger," said San Francisco Managing Partner Theodore E. Bacon. "Gordon's talents are especially well-suited to the Bay Area, which enjoys a diverse mix of Fortune 500 companies and startups, all of whom need smart and capable lawyers with both litigation and arbitration acumen like Gordon."

Young has been recognized as a Northern California Super Lawyer every year since 2007 for his work in securities litigation. Since 2012, he has been recognized by Best Lawyers for his work in products liability litigation, and he has been peer-rated AV Preeminent (the highest possible rating) by Martindale Hubble for more than 15 years.

"Gordon's breadth and depth of litigation experience encompasses many of the issues that companies face in the San Francisco market, and he'll be a wonderful resource to our diverse client base in the region," said Business & Commercial Litigation Practice Group Leader Peter M. Cummins. "His addition gives the firm yet another opportunity to strategically strengthen relationships with both clients and prospects, further bolstering our presence in the Bay
