Counsel Alyssa Cochran Joins Frost Brown Todd's Louisville Office

Frost Brown Todd (FBT) has added Counsel Alyssa Cochran to the Product, Tort, & Insurance Litigation Practice Group in the firm's Louisville office.

Cochran's practice focuses on business and complex civil disputes, personal injury matters, municipal defense, professional liability and general tort liability. She also assists business and nonprofit clients with general business advising, contract review, business entity filings, federal tax exemption filings (including 501(c)(3) applications), U.S. trademark registrations and pre-litigation dispute resolution.

Outside of her work at FBT, Cochran is dedicated to giving back to her community and improving the practice of law through involvement in professional organizations. Cochran has served on the Board of Directors for multiple nonprofit organizations, including CASA of Floyd County, which focuses on advocating for abused and neglected children in the Court system. She has also held various leadership roles with the Indiana State Bar Association, where she has served as Chair of the Young Lawyers Section and on the Board of Governors.

Cochran is a graduate of Indiana University's Robert H. McKinney School of Law and did her undergraduate studies at Indiana University at Bloomington. She is licensed to practice in Kentucky and Indiana.

FBT's product liability and tort litigation team has represented companies in all 50 states and taken more than 500 jury cases to verdict, with significant experience defending results on appeal. The firm provides sophisticated and effective defense for companies facing product liability and tort claims of every type and size. They work closely and proactively with clients from the earliest stages to implement liability prevention practices that are consistent with and integral to a successful defense.
