Frost Brown Todd (FBT) partners Eric Lamb and Samantha M. Quimby have been recognized as World Trademark Review (WTR) 2024 Global Leaders. The publication draws on market research from WTR 1000 and WTR 300 to identify the ‘best of the best’ in trademark law.

One of just seven attorneys selected in their respective states, Lamb was recognized in Indiana, and Quimby in Ohio.

Now in its sixth edition, WTR Global Leaders ‘brings together the world’s most foremost law firm and corporate trademark experts, allowing the wider community to benefit from their insight, experience and perspectives.’

Eric Lamb has focused his practice on protecting, enforcing and defending intellectual property rights for publicly traded and privately held companies in a variety of industries throughout the world. Based in the firm’s Indianapolis office, Lamb manages all aspects of global branding strategy, international trademark portfolio management, clearance, application drafting, prosecution and due diligence. His business and IT background give him a noteworthy perspective, allowing him to understand his clients’ business needs and develop solutions to reach their goals.

Samantha M. Quimby is an “a to z” brand lawyer, representing both domestic and global clients in a wide array of intellectual property matters relating to trademark, copyright, and unfair competition issues, with a particular emphasis on trademark prosecution, counseling, licensing, enforcement and litigation. While Quimby services clients in all industries, she has extensive experience with procuring and protecting brands in the lifestyle, sports/collegiate, and food/beverage industries.

Quimby and Lamb are both part of FBT's Intellectual Property \(IP\) practice group. With over 50 professionals, this group helps clients develop pointed and practical strategies for protecting and profiting from their IP assets. FBT has experts in each facet of IP, from patents and trade secrets to trademarks, copyrights, and advertising.
