Frost Brown Todd proudly announces that partner Kevin L. Colosimo received the Energy & Mineral Law Foundation's (EMLF) John L. McClaugherty Award—EMLF's highest honor—recognizing outstanding contributions to the field of energy and mineral law.

Colosimo has been a dedicated member of EMLF for over 15 years, serving in numerous leadership roles, including as the organization's president from 2020 to 2021. His leadership during the challenging times of the COVID-19 pandemic was marked by steady decision-making and strategic planning, guiding the foundation forward.

In addition to his leadership within the foundation, Colosimo is a prolific speaker and author. At EMLF's 45th Annual Institute, he presented and moderated a panel commemorating the 20th Anniversary of Marcellus Shale exploration, providing insightful discussion on the impact of the legal profession on shale gas development in Appalachia.

Colosimo's law practice spans the areas of oil and gas law, energy law, and business, contract, and real property law. He counsels clients on a wide range of legal matters including risk management alternatives, claims assessment, and litigation strategy. His contributions to energy law are recognized by Chambers USA, Best Lawyers, Super Lawyers, and the Pittsburgh Business Times Who's Who in Energy. He is AV rated by Martindale-Hubbell.

FBT offers a full array of transactional, regulatory, litigation, and advisory services to clients across every segment of the energy space. The firm's energy team assists regulated and unregulated energy companies and their customers in the development and execution of sophisticated financing, tax, renewable portfolio, fuel, siting, land use, and joint venture strategies. FBT also represents energy industry participants in complex environmental and commercial litigation, and in a variety of permitting, enforcement, and regulatory proceedings before state and federal agencies.
