

Examining the USPTO's 2025 AI Inventorship Guidance

Feb 04, 2026

Categories:

In the News

Authors:

William S. Morriss

FBT Gibbons Partner William Morriss authored an article in World IP Review examining the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office's (USPTO) newly issued 2025 AI Inventorship Guidance, which he notes marks a significant departure from its longstanding patent inventorship principles. Morriss explains that while the revised framework could make it easier for applicants to establish inventorship in AI-assisted innovations, it also introduces a potential conflict with established federal court precedent, creating uncertainty for patent owners.

"While making it easier to establish inventorship, [the new guidance] does not change the standard used by the courts, and could render patents for AI-assisted inventions vulnerable to invalidation," he writes.

Read the full article.

At FBT Gibbons, we understand that intellectual property is often a company's most valuable asset. Our full-service intellectual property team advises clients on all aspects of protecting, managing, and commercializing IP—from patents and trade secrets to trademarks, copyrights, advertising, and emerging technology—helping them develop and execute strategies that align with their business objectives while managing risk across markets and industries.

About FBT Gibbons

FBT Gibbons LLP is a national law firm focused on serving companies operating and investing in the middle market. With nearly 800 lawyers across 25 offices, the firm is positioned to support clients ranging from large multinationals to mid-sized businesses and growth-oriented startups across the United States. FBT Gibbons provides legal counsel enriched with valuable business and market context, particularly in corporate, litigation, and regulatory matters within the energy, finance, life sciences, and manufacturing sectors. The firm is committed to delivering excellent service to its clients, colleagues, and the communities in which it operates.

© 2026 FBT Gibbons LLP. May be considered attorney advertising in some jurisdictions.