Darryl Mazow on His Move to FBT Gibbons and How Expanded Platform Will Benefit Clients Nationwide

Houston Partner Darryl Mazow spoke with Law360 Pulse about joining FBT Gibbons' Corporate practice and his more than two decades of experience guiding family-owned businesses, founder-led companies, and private equity investors through complex transactions. As Mazow explains, the move to FBT Gibbons allows him to bring expanded capabilities and deeper resources to the clients he serves nationwide.

"My new firm provides a great platform for me to grow my practice and meet the diverse needs of my clients," Mazow shares. "FBT Gibbons offers more bench strength and demonstrable expertise in key areas that matter deeply to me and the businesses I work with."

Mazow further notes that the firm's collaborative culture and strong reputation across the corporate and private equity landscape played a major role in his decision.

"I wasn't actively looking to make a move," Mazow says. "But FBT Gibbons is one of the best — if not the best — firms for supporting clients in my niche. I'm excited to be part of this platform."

Mazow brings a unique combination of law firm and in-house experience, particularly as it relates to mergers and acquisitions, corporate restructurings, and debt financings. He also advises clients on governance and general corporate matters across a wide range of industries, including manufacturing, food and beverage, consumer products, online retail, aviation, and technology.
